

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT

Logan Simpson, a growing multi-discipline design and environmental planning firm, with offices in multiple states, seeks a Landscape Architect to work in our Fort Collins, Colorado office.

This position will produce and manage a wide variety of master planning and design projects including: parks; streetscapes; low impact development and green infrastructure projects; school campus, and urban, community, and civic planning and placemaking.

The ideal candidate will be creative, self-motivated, enthusiastic, and possess good communication skills and a team-oriented attitude. We value strong design and graphic capabilities; knowledge of regional landscape materials and construction practices; and a working knowledge of sustainability best practices.

Desired Qualifications:

- Bachelor and/or Master's Degree in Landscape Architecture or related degree with 5-12 years of relevant professional experience.
- Licensed Landscape Architect in Colorado.
- Expertise and hands-on experience in managing projects, providing client service, proposal preparation, project fee and budget management, leading and coordinating project teams, mentoring staff, and project quality control.
- Fluency in physical planning and site and landscape design for public and private clients.
- Experience in the preparation of conceptual and master plan reports, construction documents, and construction administration for landscape architecture projects.
- Proficient in AutoCAD and MS Office. Experience and proficiency with Sketch-up, Adobe Creative Suite, Land FX, 3D StudioMax, and Microstation are a plus.
- Potential to bring in new work through client relationships or business development activities.
- Excellent graphic design skills.
- Strong verbal and written communication skills.

Logan Simpson offers a comprehensive benefit package and a competitive salary, in addition to a beautiful office in Downtown Fort Collins.....
